About the Midtown Linear Park Project 2018

"The Ulster County Midtown Linear Park is a federally funded transportation project to design and construct a shared-use trail along the County's former Ulster & Delaware ("U&D") Corridor from Cornell Street to Westbrook Lane in the City of Kingston. The Midtown Linear Park is planned to be a 12-foot wide asphalt-paved surface that is ADA compliant and open for non-motorized uses including walking, biking, jogging, walking dogs, and inline skating. The trail will provide a critically needed non-motorized transportation link between Midtown Kingston and the Kingston Plaza (including the City's only major supermarket and a bus transit hub for the County.) It will also provide much needed recreational opportunities for neighborhoods that currently lack close access to open space and parkland and convert a formerly blighted and nuisance corridor into a community amenity and asset"

Midtown Linear Park

Creates a public trail and linear park from Midtown Kingston at Cornell Street to the Kingston Plaza.

Provides improved and safe pedestrian and bicycle access to high quality, affordable food and other shops and services for residents in Midtown.

Creates new green, parkspace for children and families in Midtown.

Promotes healthier families and stronger communities by improving quality of life.

There's a bike shelter and ample parking at Hannaford's Plaza

The Linear pathways begins at Westbrook Lane and Aaron Court along the Catskill Mountain Train

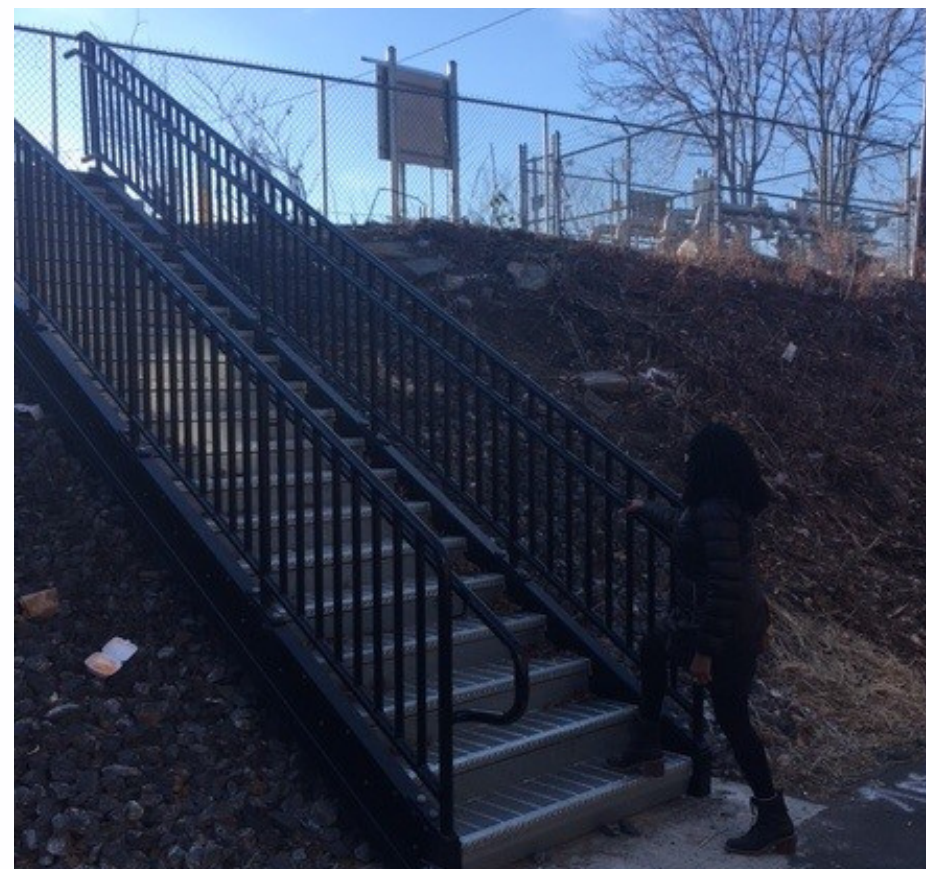

It's a paved path connecting Uptown Kingston Plaza to Midtown Cornell Street, open from dawn to dusk

The surrounding wetlands offer birding habitats.

There are new staircases that connect to Albany Avenue and to Elmendorf Street.

The park intersects with Downs and Oneil Streets, and ends at the Cornell Street parklet.

Midtown Liner Park connects

the Wallkill Valley Rail Trail

and is part of the Greenline,
a developing network of trails,
linear parks, and complete streets,
across the City of Kingston

the developing O & W Rail Trail and the Empire State Trail
